Christopher C. Surh

SPECIAL COUNSEL

EXPERIENCE

Christopher C. Surh counsels and defends clients in complex civil litigation matters, with a particular focus in transportation and premise liability. His experience ranges from matters involving personal injury, workers' compensation, and employment law to insurance defense, subrogation, contract disputes, construction defects, and public/private property. Chris regularly handles litigation from inception through trial, settlement or mediation. In addition to serving clients in the transportation industry and retail, he has represented entities in the construction, hospitality, security, and insurance industries.
