EXPERIENCE

Demi L. Jones focuses her practice on the legal needs of clients in the trucking and transportation industry, including handling personal injury, premises liability, product liability, motor vehicle/trucking liability matters, insurance coverage and contractual disputes. She is engaged at each stage of the claims and litigation process, including appearing with experts at inspections of accident sites and preserving critical evidence. Demi is experienced in conducting depositions, preparing complex legal documentation, and presenting arguments in the courtroom on a multitude of legal issues for commercial clients.

Before practicing law, Demi served for five years in the U.S. Army as a logistics officer. As maintenance director in the 426 Brigade Support Battalion, 1st Brigade Combat Team, 101st Airborne Division, she had direct oversight of the operations of six subordinate organizations, managed the maintenance programs of equipment valuing more than $200 million, and improved equipment readiness by 20 percent.
