EXPERIENCE

Kaixi (Kathy) Xu advises and represents businesses in complex commercial litigation and arbitration matters, including construction disputes, multidistrict litigation, class actions, bankruptcy-related proceedings, and high-stakes contract claims. She has experience managing all phases of litigation, from discovery and motion practice to mediation and settlement negotiations. Kathy has represented clients in matters involving claims exceeding $100 million, served as national monitoring counsel coordinating litigation strategy across multiple jurisdictions, and successfully guided clients through complex, expedited litigation resulting in favorable outcomes.

Kathy has defended cases ranging from personal injury and premises liability to real estate disputes, municipal liability, construction litigation, and medical malpractice in state and federal courts. Relentless in her pursuit of favorable outcomes, Kathy has consistently demonstrated her ability to deliver results through both court victories and settlements. Her track record includes winning summary judgment motions in trial courts and securing favorable decisions for her clients in appellate courts.
