EXPERIENCE

Lance Perez is a seasoned trial lawyer with extensive experience handling complex asbestos litigation, product liability, personal injury, and commercial litigation. He has successfully defended hundreds of asbestos-related lawsuits across New York, and has delivered favorable results through arbitration, mediation, and in-person settlement negotiations. Lance draws on more than 20 years of knowledge gained while counseling and defending manufacturers of heavy trucks, construction equipment, and maritime products, including serving as New York State counsel for a leading commercial vehicle manufacturer. His previous practice also included handling casualty cases, defending clients against personal injury claims.
