EXPERIENCE

Matthew P. Levy counsels and defends clients in a variety of general liability matters, with a particular focus on the unique needs of businesses in the transportation industry. With more than 25 years of experience, he has successfully represented clients on several high exposure wrongful death, premises liability, and transportation liability cases by obtaining dismissals on summary judgment or by negotiating favorable settlements. Matthew also supervises cases handled by attorneys in the firm's Metro New York offices for a key transportation client. His practice extends to the representation of condominiums, cooperatives, rental buildings, and management companies in matters involving premises liability.
