EXPERIENCE

Matthew V. Patrizio focuses his practice on helping commercial clients navigate business disputes and the contractual, governance, and regulatory issues that often underlie them. He draws on experience advising clients on corporate governance, mergers and acquisitions, commercial leasing, and day-to-day operational legal issues. Matthew has drafted, reviewed, and negotiated a wide range of agreements, including shareholder and operating agreements, asset and equity purchase agreements, and commercial leases. His familiarity with how deals are structured and documented gives Matthew valuable insight when contractual and business relationships give rise to disputes.

While earning his J.D. at Syracuse University College of Law, Matthew served as a student attorney in the Transactional Law Clinic, where he assisted businesses and nonprofits with entity formation, governance, tax-exemption applications, and trademark matters and received limited recognition to practice before the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office. He also conducted intellectual property, regulatory, and market analyses for clients commercializing emerging technologies through the school's Innovation Law Center.
