EXPERIENCE

Timothy S. Carr counsels and defends trucking and transportation companies in a variety of liability issues including products liability, premises liability, and automobile liability. Tim draws on his experience as in-house counsel at a Fortune 500 company, where he handled complex casualty and employment matters through attorney-to-attorney negotiation, alternate dispute resolution, and trial. He manages all aspects of litigation, including conducting jury and bench trials, performing investigative research, drafting and arguing dispositive motions, leading and defending depositions, drafting and arguing appeals, attending mediations, and negotiating settlements.

In addition to Tim's casualty experience, he has represented Fortune 50 companies in state and federal courts in a range of employment matters involving discrimination, hostile work environment, wrongful discharge, and retaliation. His background includes defending against various claims made under the Fair Labor Standards Act (FLSA), Worker Adjustment and Retraining Notification (WARN) Act, Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA), and Airline Deregulation Act. Tim has provided regulatory advice across the nation concerning COVID-19 liability and workers' compensation.
